

Hermes Netburn Attorney, Holly M. Polglase, Speaks at Suffolk University Law School Master Class Series

KEY SERVICES

Litigation

RELATED ATTORNEYS

Holly M. Polglase

February 17, 2015

(Boston, MA – February 17, 2015) Holly Polglase, a shareholder at Hermes Netburn and a 1988 graduate of Suffolk University Law School, recently spoke at the law school’s Master Class series. Holly, presented as a panelist in part two of the program entitled: “Deposition Strategies in Complex Case Categories.” In this program, Holly discussed ways to create a clear and useful record at depositions and also how to use exhibits and video effectively.

Holly Polglase acts as lead counsel in the defense and trial of complex product liability, pharmaceutical, medical device, toxic tort, asbestos, general liability and commercial matters. With a proven track record and over twenty years of experience, Holly works as national and regional counsel for major national and multi-national corporations.